DOCUMENTARY HISTORY OF THE SECESSION KENTUCKY UNDER ITS LATEST -We have already shown that the fangled Democratic party in Kentucky is the secession party under a new alias; but the subject is of such grave and immeasurable importance that we deem it our duty to make ne showing more full than we have yet made This duty we will now endeavor to per-

On the 19th of January last, Mr. Grover, of Owen, the secession leader in the Senate of the State, introduced into the Senate a set of resolutions with a preamble, as expressive of the views and sentiments of his political friends in the body. On the same day, Mr. W. P. D. Bush, of Hancock, the secession leader in the House, introduced the same paper in like manner into the House.

The paper was familiarly styled "THE GROVER RESOLUTIONS", and was supported by every secessionist in the Legislature and denounced by every body else there. The men who introduced the paper into the Legislature, and the men in the Legislature who accepted the paper, were all known secessionists. They were all undisputed and avowed secessionists. That is to say, they were all original and acknowledged members of the secession party icky. We dwell on this point for an nt, because here is the spring of the movement for the reorganization of the secession party of the State under the name of Democracy. Here is the Itasca from which has risen the Mississippi of this pretended De-locracy, if we may be permitted to use lange so excessively hyperbolical.

The paper in question, as we have said, was introduced into the Legislature on the 19th of January last. On the 29th and the 30th of the same month, a public meeting was held privately in the Senate Chamber of the Capitol, of which the official report appeared in the Frankfort Yeoman of the 2d of February. The Yeoman was at that time the chief secession journal in the State. The report as it appeared in the Yeoman was as follows: PROCEEDINGS OF THE DEMOCRATIC MEET-ING HELD ON THE 29TH AND 30TH OF JANU-ARY.

At a meeting of the Democratic members of the Legislature of Kentucky, and a large number of the Democracy from various coun ties of the State, in the Senate Chamber in the city of Frankfort, Thursday night, January 29th, 1863, Gen. Wm. Johnson, of Scott, was called to the chair, and W. P. D. Bush, of

On motion, the following preamble and restions, offered by the Hon. A. P. Grover in Senate, and by W. P. D. Bush in the use of Representatives, on the 19th inst., ously adopted as the sense of the

In times of war, as in peace, the Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land. It prescribes the powers of the Government in its executive, no less than in its other departments, and it is the only legal bond of union between the States.

The Federal Government, as defined by the Constitution, when exercising the powers granted to it, is entitled to the allegiance of the people; but loyalty to the Governmen does not impose upon the citizen any obligation to support an administration in the en forcement of a policy unauthorized by the Constitution or forbidden by its provisions but it is the duty of all good citizens to resist He who upholds the Executive, of the name of Democracy. We need not bring forward any witness on this point; but we think proper to bring forward one. The Editor of the Louisville Democrat, referring in his paper of the 8th of Feb- that they could there and then report themruary to this movement and to the meeting that had just launched the movement, said:

We had almost forgot to notice the se-cesh gathering at Frankfort. Indeed, they were so quiet and private that the rest of maa-kind didn't know what they had done until they published only what they chose to see the light. What they said in that private room, shut out from the world, we don't know. It is only from the unrestra ourings in that secret conclave that the obect at heart could be made out. In their pub shed pamphlet there is a great deal against lished pamphlet there is a great deal against Lincoln which is true—true as preaching. They might have said more, perhaps, for the material is superabundant. But what will they do about it?

and so is everybody else; but they don't state on what conditions, and they are everything. We are ready to make peace any day that Da vis & Co. will say that they give up their issue of dividing this country. We do not wish to let them know that we give it up; that they may have their way and take what they want. This is just what this State will infer is the bject of these men. They are all original secesh, so far as is known. Their counsels at the start would have sent Kentucky into the Southern Confederacy, and this State would have been the bloody theatre of the war; and their counsels now would lead to the same result. If they had told you that they would not submit to either extreme, they might have talked about peace and not have been misunderstood. Indeed, they are not misunderstood. Their antecedents show too well what they

name and claim the association of Northern Democrats, and yet the material of this body aided in breaking up the Democratic party—deserted these Northern Democrats.

Now, we defend these Northern Democrats. They were the party. They were right, and we had the honor of supporting them throughout. They have been right ever since, and are right now. We warn them not to be misled by a name. The Union men of this State everywhere denounce the criminal acts of Lin-coln and his party, but they will not comprom-The Central Committee of this body call a Convention of the Democratic party. The names of that Committee show what the result is to be if they can get control of this Commonwealth. These men will separate for-

All they say against the Administration than the rebel armies. The loyal men of Kentucky will not submit to this Admintstration and its party policy. Whilst that is distinctly understood, they will not succumb to the reellion. We think there is power in the bal-ot-box to subdue the criminal purposes of both extremes. They are the genuine Democracy of this State. They admire the courage of Northern men who, in the midst of trouble and danger, stood up for the Constitution as it is and the Union as it was. They intend to fight for it with those Northern particularly and the Union as it was a constitution of the contract of the contra triots, and not for the purpose of separating from them.

And, again, the Editor of the Democrat in his paper of the 10th of February, referring more especially to the platform of the movement, said:

We have looked over a document put out by is an indictment against the Administration that is the simple question, what are you going to do about it? This point is left out of the address—left out by design, we apprehend. We find not a word in this address against this rebellion or its authors.

It in-olves no destruction of any right of any State, no subjugation or extermination, unless the rebels are insane enough to fight for no It is ominous that this address is silent on points so important—the very point on which the people of Kentucky want to be informed. racy, why don't they say so? If they want he Union as it was, why don't they say so? Their antecedents would leave the public to believe that they are for secession. If they are not, here is the place and this is the time And, yet again, the Editor of the Democrat, noticing in his paper of the 13th of February a call for a primary meeting in this city to appoint delegates to the "Democratic State Convention" convoked by the "Democratic Central Committee" as exhibited above, said: The call is a misrepresentation—there is no meeting of the Democratic party about to ake place at Frankfort on the 18th inst. It is true, however, that a small body of seces-sionists, who opposed the platform of the Naional Democratic party in 1860, and who have

This was said only five days before the time appointed for the meeting of the so-called Democratic State Convention.

At the appointed time, the convention met at the Capital; and, having been publicly branded as disloyal by the Legislature in refusing to grant the delegates the use of the Legislative Hall, filling in every respect if not exceeding the character assigned to the movement by the Editor of the Democrat in common with all the rest of the Union men of Kentucky, and being positively denounced to the military authorities by a number of prominent Union men on the spot as a body composed of notorious public enemies, was summarily dispersed by the commandant of the post. The universal denunciation of the movement as treasonable by the loyal press and people of Kentucky was thus crowned by the corresponding action of the military authorities of the Union. On the 19th of February, the day following the dispersion of the convention, Mr. A. B. Chambers, an active secessionist of the county of Gallatin, who had figured conspicuously in lature to dispense with the rules in order to

When this was done the Convention was one or in little groups, as the stars appear to steal into their places in the twilight sky, the managers apparently considering that to alness of said Convention was "arrested;" that those present would not be permitted to hold low the ticket all at once to burst forth in constellated splendor might challenge too for cibly the attention of the authorities. But at last the ticket is out in full. And it must be owned that the composition of the ticket fully justifies the stealthy order in which the ticket was brought out. Of the seven members constituting the ticket, at least two are original secessionists, one of the two being a member of the Central Committee appointed by the meeting of the 29th and the 30th of January. The remaining members of the ticket are new recruits who in general did not publicly abandon the Union party until their character as Union men had abandoned them. Be this as it may, they are to the loyal men of the State quite as good and quite as bad as the original secessionists on the ticket are. And justly so. The motion of Mr. Chambers was rejected by the House, and the memorial was heard of no more. The memorial only served to furnish additional but unnecessary proof that the convention was a purely secession body. The convention as represented in the memorial was merely the meeting of the 29th and the 30th of January on a larger scale. Not only was the former called under the auspices of the latter, but the leading actors in both were the same; the platform of both was the same; and the avowed end of both was the same. The convention would have simply ratified and consummated the action of the meeting. This the memorial deliberately confesses. In short, the convention, as we have said, was a purely secession one. There was indeed no more difference of opinion amongst the Union men of Kentucky touching the real character of the convention than there was touching the real character of the meeting. They held the meeting to be disloyal; and they held the convention to be at the lowest as disloyal as the meeting. Both were confessedly parts of the same movement; and the Union men of the State, without exception, held the movement to be treasonable. They were a unit on the

Here, again, testimony is not needed: but here, again, we think proper to bring forward a single witness. The Editor of the Democrat, referring to the convention in his paper of the 24th of February, nearly a week after the dispersion of the body, said:

We believe, however, that the convention was gotten up in aid of secession purposes; for it assumed the name of the Democratic party as a cloak to its designs, hoping thus to mislead the people. If it does prevail, the rebellion, reanimated and reinforced in the very hour of extremest weakness, will renew the contest with new energy and with new hope, whilst Kentucky, trampled by armies contending in a strife divested at length of all civilized features, and torn by civil feud as vindictive and as deadly as the terrible vendetta Southern Europe, will exchange the relative safety and prosperity and the unshadowed and unequalled glory of her present position for a wretchedness and a degradation all unmatched in the annals of this direful struggle. SHOOTING .- An unfortunate affair occurred n Maysville, on Saturday, says the Eagle, resulting in the death of an Irishman named Murphy, who was formerly a citizen of Maysville, but recently resided in Cincinnati. Murphy had been drinking freely, and pubicly boasted that he had been riding with John Morgan for three days. A member of Captain Bierbower's company heard him and informed his captain. When questioned concerning what he had said, Murphy denied having made such boasts, but when confronted with the proof he partially admitted that he had used such language. Bierbower then ordered his arrest, when Murphy drew a revolver and attempted to shoot one of the soldiers, the ball fortunately going into the air. He then lowered the pistol and was in the act of shooting Captain Bierbower, when the latter shot him through the breast. Murphy then staggered and wheeled, when a squad of soldiers fired at him, killing him instantly. The first shot would have been fatal. The deceased was at one time an ardent Union man, and it is probable that his boasts of having been with Morgan were merely the effects of drink. His friends say that his visit to Maysville was for the purpose of buying cattle. He leaves a family, and his death will be mourned by many personal friends.

THE TRAITORS IN INDIANA. - The Indianapois Journal, among other incidents of Morgan's raid, mentions that "Morgan knew before he crossed the river who were his friends, and who had arms. Upon entering Corydon he showed a list (and so at Salem) of every itizen who had a Henry rifle or other improved arm, and immediately sent patrols to bring them in. In Corydon the spy was a young man who visited there three weeks before, and returned with Morgan. At Salem, a deserter from the 66th Indiana boldly joined Morgan and was armed by him, but was subsequently captured, and is now in the Salem jail.

A special to the Cincinnati Commercial, dated Washington, July 23, says the demonstration of rebel cavalry shows quite clearly that the greater portion of Lee's army is in the Shenandoah Valley, near Winchester. Their advance yesterday was for the purpose of feeling our lines, as the enemy has doubtless been as uncertain of the whereabouts of our forces as we were of his.

It is not believed that these rebel demonstrations indicate the resumption of offensive movements.

It has been finally decided by the Provost Marshal General that a person paying $300 would exempt him from that draft only, while if he furnishes a substitute it will exempt him from other drafts. OUR DANGER AND OUR DUTY .- Kentucky is about to pass a crisis involving to a greater extent the interests of our Commonwealth than any we have heretofore encountered. It has been proved beyond a doubt that partisans of the rebel army are now disbanding in order that they may organize themselves into bands, large or small, to make predatory raids into those portions of our State not protected by the presence of a loyal force. In all the Southern counties the people are cursed with numerous guerilla bands, engaged at present in stealing, but doubtless making preparations for the equally important work of controlling the approaching election in the State. We do not speak from mere conjecture but from the evidence of a gallant and well-known officer of a Kentucky cavalry regiment, whose name, for prudential reasons, we conceal, but whose statement we have before us in writing, and from it we take such facts as will warn our people of their danger. A short time since, this officer, accompanied by a small party of gentlemen, some of whom belonged to the home guard of rection of the Cumberland river and through the northern portions of the counties of Sumpose of obtaining information and accomplishand are unmolested, and yet they are ridiculous fact just as close as possible. ation with the oneger. This party saw their camps, and con- addressed as Capt. Hines? versed with many of the citizens, who undisguisedly told them that they were acquainted with the horse-stealing operations going on in the border counties, that they gave aid and encouragement to them, and that many of the horses stolen from Kentucky were then concealed in that region. All of these traitors and criminals, with their protection papers in their pockets, boasted that they were as great rebels as ever, and claimed that they could serve the Southern Confederacy better in the posi-

Allen county should go as Norvell did. They were all to be murdered, and their property confiscated—there the polite term for robbery. These protected rebels were much troubled by the recent reverses of their friends on the Mississippi and at Gettysburg, but expressthe election of Mr. Wickliffe as Governor, and defeat as many of the Union Democratic can- | North star! didates for Congress and the Kentucky Legislature as possible, in order to get the control so. Their plans are complete, consisting in part of extensive raids to be made about election time, wherever it can be done, particularly in the counties on the Tennessee border, from one end of our State to the other. Wherever it can be effected, the voting is to be done by controlling the polls and requiring the no-moremen-and-no-more-money candidates to be alarm Union men and deter them from going to the election. They said that their last hope was to force Kentucky into the Southern Confederacy. If that can be done, it compensates for their recent defeats, and then, they say, their condition and that of "their government" will be no worse than it was before the Fourth of July reverses. All concur in this, that they must have Kentucky, and this is the insolent vaunt of the Tennessee rebels now basking in prosperity under the protecting influence of the United States Government. As a part of the operations of this organization, numerous border counties, alarming the people and preparing the public mind for the panic under the influence of which they are to be thrown about the first of August. Such is the danger which menaces our State, and it is idle, it would indeed be criminal, to disguise its magnitude. What then is our duty? In the first place the Federal army must extend all possible protection to the border counties, about the time of the election, not to interfere with it, but to have it held according to law. As there is a scarcity of cayalry, commanders of forces should, temporarily at least, mount their men by pressing into the service the horses of citzens. The polls at all the precincts should be left free for all legal voters, but the citizens must not depend entirely upon the military protection. Every Union man should go to his voting place determined to cast his suffrage for the candidate pledged to sustain the institutions of the country and to uphold the government in spite of the weakness and wickedness of a temporary administration, and equally determined, so far as possible, to see that all other lawful voters shall be free to do likewise. Such a course on the part of the people would go far to circumvent the operations of those who would ruin the country, and in most instances would deter them from any attempt to carry out their designs. In addition to this, the laws governing elections, and particularly the act on the subject of expatriation, should be fully un- the rascals so stubborn. derstood by the officers holding them, and no person should be permitted to vote who has knowingly given aid or comfort to the rebellion. Every true Union man and patriot should determine, that, in this the closing struggle for the salvation of Kentucky and of the nation, he will discharge his whole duty against any opposition which may be attempted. The Tennessee rebels, who have projected these raids upon our State on election day, regard the contest to be then decided as no struggle between Union men or Union parties, but emphatically one between the rebel Confederacy and the nation. If the Union Democratic candidates in Kentucky can be defeated, and men elected pledged to the no-more-men-and-no-more-money doctrine. they will regard it as a secession victory in Kentucky, an endorsement of the Southern Confederacy, and an intention to place our beloved and loyal old Commonwealth within | por cent interest on Deposits for a specified time and the embraces of the rebels and under the juris- four per cent on those subject to ten days' notice of diction of Jeff Davis. Kentuckians! are you willing to be so regarded and placed? We know you are not. Then place yourselves on the watchtowers of your country, and assert, with manly determination, the rights belonging to you under your government. If you fail to do this, you are ruined.

an Editor who professes to be so much of a conservative that he has had to leave the conservative party because it isn't conservative enough to suit him: -about as pretty as the following talk, uttered by the same Editor in reference to the war power of the President: ONE OF THE PLAIN INCIDENTS OF THIS POWER IS TO ARREST BY THE MILITARY. AND TO HOLD ANY ONE IN HIS JUDGMENT AIDING THE ENEMY AND HE HAS A RIGHT BY LAW TO HOLD SUCH PERSONS IN SPITE OF A COURT. Our neighbor in order to be consistent must necessarily hold that in the matter of military arrests there has been no "war against the Constitution" in the past, and, according to his doctrine, we do not very well see how such a war is ever to commence in the future, as the doctrine makes the President in this particular a Constitution to himself; but our neighbor, so far as we remember, is not bound war at all against the Constitution in the past. We hope the remark is an inadvertency, and that our neighbor is not "about to commence" to advocate the constitutionality of all of the administration's past measures. His advocacy of the constitutionality of military arrests is enough in all conscience for a pink of conservatism. But there is no telling what our neighbor will advocate next. We advise his new friends to keep an eye on him. The Journal actually affirms the substantial statement about our meeting with Captain Hines. We now denounce the whole story as a falsehood. There is not a word of truth in the representation of our meeting Capt. Hines—not a word of truth in it. It is, in short, a lie. The Journal, seriously to all appearance wants to know if we did not assure Captai Hines of our gratification at seeing him. No lly do we deny it, but we say that the man

The secessionists call Judge Bramlette an abolitionist for not exclusively denouncing abolitionism in his speeches, and the abolitionists call Governor Seymour a secessionist for not exclusively denouncing secessionism in his speeches. From a conversation with some of the rebel officers confined in the City Prison in Cincinnati, the Gazette learns the following facts: They say the raid of Morgan into Ohio and Indiana was a pre-arranged movement, and that he was not driven over the Ohio river at Brandenburg by Gen. Hobson. Also, that if Morgan had been afraid of Gen. Hobson catching him, he would not have crossed the Ohio at all, but would have tried to elude our forces in Kentucky, as he had men with him who knew every road in the State. From the time they left Lebanon, Ky., until the time of their capture, they were almost continually in her papers, or correspondence, or by the their saddles. The Gazette adds that they seem to have a large quantity of "greenbacks," and also a great amount of Confederate scrip, which they term the "blueback." Col. Basil Duke was wounded in the right ear by a Minie ball, and Lieutenant-Colonel Hoffman was wounded in the leg by the fragment of a ELECTION RETURNS .- Officers of election and shell. > THE 5-20 LOAN .- Very nearly a million and a half of dollars have been invested in Kentucky in this loan by shrewd business men. It is undoubtedly one of the best means of investing surplus capital which is now presented, as its coupons are paid in gold and the principal will eventually be liquidated in the same manner. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, is the agent of the Treasury for receiving subscriptions for these bonds, and Mr. J. H. Rhorer. acting for him in this city, can supply the bonds as they are called for. Mr. Cooke's circular, which will be found in our advertising columns, explains briefly but clearly the advantages of this investment. The government loans, maturing in 1881, now command six per cent premium, while the 5-20 may be obtained at par for a limited period and the shorter this period the more valuable the bonds. Persons who intend to form National Banking Associations will of course take advantage of this before the loan is withdrawn from the market, which may be done on the first of next month. Those who have more greenbacks than they want to use can aid the government in distributing its loans among the people and at the same time obtain a safe investment. A reference to Mr. Cook's circular will give valuable information in reference to the 5-20

Let those who have doubted the virtues of Bull's Cedron Bitters, if any such there be, read the following certificate from gentlemen well known in this community, and doubt no more.

Its general introduction into the army will save the lives of thousands of our soldiers.

Louisville, Ky., June 3, 1863. We, the undersigned, have seen the good effects produced by the use of Dr. John Bull's CEDRON BITTERS in cases of general debility and prostration of the system, and believe its general use would prevent disease and relieve much suffering. Among our soldiers particularly would this be the case, especially those who are exposed to miasmatic influences in CINCINNATI, July 24. The cavalry expedition, under Col. Zoland, of the 34th Ohio mounted infantry, and Col. Powell, of the 2d Virginia cavalry, sent by Brigadier-General Scammon, from Charleston, Va., to cut the Virginia and Tennessee rail-road at Wytheville, has been successful. They captured Wytheville, after a severe fight, and took one hundred and twenty prisoners, two pieces of artillery, and seven hundred stand of arms. Our loss, in killed and wounded, is about sixty-five. Colonel Zoland and Captain Delaney, of Cincinnati, are killed Colonel Powell is severely wounded. The enemy lost seventy-five killed, and a large number wounded.

Our troops were fired on by citizens from the houses. The town was to ally destroyed.
The command reached Fayetteville yesterday after a hard march of over 300 miles.

Major Krause, of the 86th Ohio, had a skirmish with the rebels at eleven o'clock this morning, driving them out of Washington.
When last heard from Morgan was at Winchester, twelve miles northeast of Cambridge, moving toward the Steubenville and Indiana

The Government has decided on active measures regarding the fitting out of the rebel iron-c'ad fleet in England. The authorities are urged to issue letters of marque and rerrisal in view of increase of pirates. FORTRESS MONROE, July 24.

The Richmond Whig of the 24th says: The evacuation of Jackson, Miss., left in the han's of the enemy the rolling stock of the New Orleans, Jackson, and Great Northern, the Mississippi, and the Mississippi and Tennese railroads. The motive power alone consisted of over forty engines. The loss is in calcuable, important, and irreparable.

Nothing goes well in the Southwest.
The Federal cavalry raid from Newbern, N. C., reached Rocky Mount, on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, on the 20th, and destroyed two miles of track. The bridge over the Neuse river, which is 1,000 feet long, was burned, thereby cutting off communication for some weeks.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 23. The following is from the Petersburg Express of July 23: From passengers who reached here yesterday morning on the train from Weldon we gather a few particulars of the raid on Rocky Mount, N. C.

The gang numbered between 400 and 600, and came up from Washington, N. C. This is the route supposed to have been taken, for Rocky Mount, though about the same distance from Plymouth as Washington, the roads from the latter point are much the best. Either road would bring them to Tarboro, a flourishing little town in Combe county, 18 miles from Rocky Mount, where, until recently, the Government has had immense supplies of racon, corn, &c. The raiders reached Rocky Mount about twelve o'clock, meeting with no resistance, except a small quad of fifteen or twenty men guarding the bridge over the Ear river, near Rocky Mount.

Of course we did not seek an engagement with such odds, but we presume they retired in good order. The Eddends impressible the The following is from the Petersburg Ex-

Of course we did not seek an engagement with such odds, but we presume they retired in good order. The Federals immediately ploceeded to burn the depot, destroy the water tank, and commit acts of vandalism in this vicinity. They also burnt about 5,000 bales of cotton, be onging chiefly to private individuals. A squad repaired to a large cotton factory near by, owned by Wm. S. Battle, and that splendid building and all its valuable machinery was speedily reduced. This is a serious loss to all that portion of the This is a serious loss to all that portion of the State, as well as the south side of Virginia. A very large quantity of cotton yarns made at the factory were purchased by the people of Eastern North Carolina and the south side of Virginia, who, since the war, have been largely engaged in manufacturing this thing for home consumption.

The regular meil train for Wilmington passed just three minutes before the arrival of the raiders, and thus made a narrow escape from capture. The train on the Tarboro branch of the road was not so fortunate, for it was captured by the raiders, and two car loads of ammunition and over thirty thou-loads of ammunition and over thirty thousand pounds of bacon captured.

They also attempted to destroy the cars and locomotives. We understand they only partially succeeded. The train from Weldon, which reached here yesterday afternoon, brought no intelligence later than the above. Travel and telegraphic communication between Weldon and Wilmington is now interrupted, and we can send no one who is able to inform us when it will be resumed. We learn inform us when it will be resumed. We learn that a military force sufficiently large to pre-vent a repetition of the destruction effected on Monday is now at hand on the road, but un fortunately they are just time to be too late.
The damage has been done
Later.—We learn by telegraph from Wilmington that the bridge was destroyed by the raiders that spanned the river near Rocky Mount. It was a most substantial structure, some 300 yards long. The track for a distance of a mile or two was torn up, and other damage was effected, which will require a week or more to repair. Travel, it is thought, will be time thrown away to repair the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, for the Yankee cavalry will be able to reach it in two rs' time whenever they feel so disposed

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR. Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department. For the information and guidance of all officers at the approaching election, I have caused to be herewith published an act of the Legislature of Kentucky, entitled "an act to amend chapter 15, of the Revised Statutes, entitled 'Citizens, Expatriation, and Aliens." The strict observance and enforcement of this, and all other laws of this State regulating elections, are earnestly enjoined and required, as being alike due to a faithful dis-charge of duty, to the purity of the elective franchise, and to the sovereign will of the peo-ple of Kentucky, expressed through their Legislature.

Battery of Artillery, for 12 months' service, for the defence of the border of Kentacky, to be mustered into the United States service. Young men, come up and volunteer, and prove yourselves worthy of your noble old State — fight the enemy that is in arms for the destruction of your Government, the best Government upon earth, the great monument erected to the memory of Washington, the illustrious champion of liberty, which must not and never will be torn down. This war will certainly be prosecuted by the Government until this horrid rebellion is put down, and if you do not volunteer, you will be taken by draft and conscription. But do not permit future history to proclaim that Kentuckians were drafted to protect their own State from destruction by so insolent a fee, from whem nothing can be expected but anarchy, misery, and ruin.

Pay from thirteen to twenty dollars per month, and will be mustered in as soon as enlisted and receive one months' pay in advance. s' pay in advance. camp of instruction at Lebanon is filling up

ASTROLOGY. Look Out! Good News for All! THE NEVER-FAILING MADAME ISABEL SNELL is the best. She succeeds when all others have failed. All who are in trouble; all who have been unfortunate; all whose fond hopes have been disappointed, crushed, and blasted by false promises and deceit—all fly to her for advice and satisfaction.

In love affairs she never fails. She shows you the likeness of your future husband or wife. She guides the single to a happy marriage. Her aid and advice have been solicited in innumerable instances, and the result has always been the means of securing a speedy and happy marriage. She is therefore a sure dependence. and happy marriage. She is therefore a sure dependence.

It is well known to the public at large that she was the first and she is now the only person in this country who can show the likeness in reality, and who can give entire satisfaction on all the concerns of life, which can be attested and proved by thousands, both married and sing'e, who daily and eagerly visit her. To all in business her advice is invaluable. She can forstell, with the greatest certainty, the result of all commercial and business transactions. Madame Snell is a bona fide Astrologist that every one can depend upon. She is the greatest Astrologist of the nineteenth century. Some ladies may be a little timid, though they need not fear, for she practises nothing but what is reconcilable to philosophers; in fact a single visit will satisfy the most fastidious of her respectability, moral rectitude, and of the purity of her profession and practice. All interviews are strictly private and confidential; therefore come, one—come, all.

So Prices reduced to suit the times. Ladies one dollar; gentlemen two dollars.

P. S.—Madame Snell will tell the names and ages of all visitors, and will also cast their Horoscope and give them their nativity, also tell the place where they will be most fortunate. Every person who cannot get along in this world and has bad luck, should be in possession of her Horoscope and get her written opin ion of his future prospect in life.
